If you make a complaint and it can't be resolved immediately or by the end of the third business day after it was received, we'll formally acknowledge your complaint in writing within five business days.

We'll fully investigate your complaint using all of the information available to us and address your concerns in full as quickly as we can. Usually we will be able to provide our final response to your complaint within four weeks

Sometimes it can take us a little longer to investigate your concerns and if it does, we'll write to you to explain our progress and let you know when you can expect to receive our final decision.

If your complaint is against your insurer, and not Insuforce in our role as your agent, you should contact your insurer in the first instance. The name and address of your insurer can be found on your policy documentation.

If we fail to provide you with a final response within eight weeks of the initial date of your complaint or if you're not satisfied with our response, you may refer the dispute to the Financial Ombudsman at:
